CANDIDATE STATEMENT: In 300 words or less, state why the role is of interest to you, what you hope to bring to the design community through a position on the chapter board.

As I look to the future, I have a passion for mentoring a next generation of designers. I feel that leadership as a board member would accomplish that.

ASID CANDIDATE COMMITMENT FORM, NON-DISCLOSURE & CONFLICT OF INTEREST AGREEMENT

I affirm that I meet the eligibility requirements to serve on an ASID chapter board and that my membership must remain current during my tenure of service.

I understand that ASID Chapters are volunteer run management boards and will require my successful completion of all mandatory training whether virtual or in person, and that expenses may not be covered by ASID, Inc., or the chapter.

I confirm that I have not received a reprimand, censure, or have had my membership suspended as a result of action by an ASID Disciplinary Committee. I further understand that should these events occur during my term it will result in immediate expulsion from the board and thereafter I shall be permanently precluded from holding elected office in the Society or in any of its chapters.

I will, at all times, act solely in the best interests of the Society, the chapter and its members, and will exercise my duties in compliance with the Society's Bylaws, Policies, Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct, Non-Disclosure and Conflict of Interest Policy, and the operational policies of the chapter.

I understand that among other obligations I will have as a board member are the obligations of fiduciary duties of care, loyalty, obedience and confidentiality, all of which have been explained and/or made available to me. (Check all indicating you have read and understand the fiduciary responsibilities.)

- Duty of Loyalty - set aside personal interests and act in the best interests of the organization.
- Duty of Care - act reasonably to maintain the safety and well-being of the organization and individuals.
- Duty of Obedience - act to uphold legal compliance and in service of the mission.
- Duty of Confidentiality - act to maintain board trust for appropriate deliberations by protecting conversations, actions, documents from non-board members.

Among those duties are the obligations to (i) disclose any potential personal conflict of interest I may have in regard to any proposed chapter action or activity, and (ii) maintain the confidentiality of board discussions held within meetings and not disclose decisions made by board, until such time as the chapter's president has determined to disclose such decisions.

Biography of Diane Luxford, ASID

An Inspiring Journey

Early Life and Education

Diane Luxford attended Dana College in Blair, NE as an art major and then transferred to Iowa State University to complete a degree in Interior Design (1976)

Professional Career

After completing her degree, Diane embarked on a career that seamlessly blended her love for design and her desire to make a positive impact on society. She began working as a designer at Omaha Mirror, continued as a designer at Interiors by Joan, Ambiance Interiors, Architects & Company and then launched her own business D-Lux Interiors in 1990. Diane has served the NE/IA chapter of ASID as a board member in the past as well as a past chapter president (95-96) She was also a Showhouse chair (89) and has had multiple committee positions. She was named a Medalist in 1992. Diane has received many other awards and honors throughout her career.

Design Contributions

Diane's design projects have been published in various local magazines and newspapers. Diane possesses the proven ability to successfully integrate opportunities and objectives with human and material resources to take a residential or commercial design project from the initial consultation, back to the drafting table and on to project completion.

Education and Advocacy

Beyond her professional achievements, Diane is deeply committed to education and advocacy. She has been successful in imparting design project expertise to university students, community college students and interns. Diane is praised by students for her insight and industry knowledge. She has served on Advisory Boards at 2 different Universities to bring the "real world" to the academic world. Diane teaches beginning, history, and upper-level classes at Metropolitan Community College for those seeking an interior design associates degree.

Diane was the first coalition president when Nebraska was seeking a title registration act. She supports our new law and advocates the importance of this to students.

Diane passed the NCIDQ exam in 1982 and has maintained CEUs for the past 25+ years.
